ABOUT THE BLACK PAGES

Welcome to The Black Pages! Created by and for UC Davis students, this guide will help you explore the African and African American community on campus. In The Black Pages, you'll find culturally relevant resources, information on student organizations and academic support and advice from student leaders to help you succeed in all aspects at Davis.

African diaspora: The term African diaspora was developed in the 1990s and entered common usage in the 2000s. Diaspora refers to people around the world whose descent can be traced from one specific geographical location. African diaspora is attributed to all people of African descent; they may identify as Black, African American or African.

WELCOME LETTERS

Kayton Carter

Executive Director
Retention Initiatives

Welcome to UC Davis!

You're attending a university recognized nationally and internationally for academic excellence, scholarship, contributions to the public good, environmental friendliness and a diverse, inclusive campus. Your unique perspectives and talents will add to the rich texture of our Aggie community.

It's an exciting time to be at UC Davis: Our first African American chancellor began his term in August 2017. He has stated frequently his commitment to mentoring and retaining underrepresented students.

As director of the African American Strategic Retention Initiative and Center for African Diaspora Student Success (CADSS), my passion is to provide comprehensive services from day one of your university education. My sole objective is to see every student walk across the commencement stage as a graduate of UC Davis.

In addition to providing an array of academic support services, CADSS brings students and staff together to engage in all aspects of campus life and create a sense of belonging. Together, we inspire through the development of cultural awareness, academic excellence, leadership skills, social consciousness and personal success. The center is a warm, welcoming, communal and intellectually challenging environment that contributes to the vitality of campus.

Throughout campus, you'll find staff dedicated to your success, such as Ken Barnes, the Internship and Career Center's liaison for CADSS. As a former UC Davis student himself, he has been where you are now and can steer you in the right direction to make the most of your university education.

Also, consider living in Campbell 2, an on-campus, living-learning community open to freshman students that is focused on the African diaspora culture and community. Whatever your major, the African American and African Studies Department is where you'll find courses on the history and culture of African-descent peoples. The African American and African Studies Department also supports the academic and social needs of African American students and brings together the Black community on campus.

These are a few of the ways for you to connect with your cultural community, and there are many more as you'll find in The Black Pages. I know you've worked hard to get to UC Davis, and I'll be working hard to ensure your success.

Walter Robinson

Associate Vice Chancellor
Enrollment Management
Division of Student Affairs

You have invested years of hard work and energy toward preparing for college, and you have earned your seat in the UC Davis fall 2018 incoming class. I am excited to welcome you to campus and look forward to the positive contributions you will make to the intellectual, social and cultural vitality of the UC Davis student body. UC Davis is more than just a world-class research university: it is an active, diverse community—a place where you can connect, engage and thrive. It is a place where you can both challenge yourself and be yourself. The Black Pages is your guide to the wide array of activities and resources our campus has to offer you. Read it, use it, get involved!

I would like to offer you some valuable pieces of advice that I am sure you will find helpful as a student at this great university:

- Connect with community and have a sense of ownership.
- Move forward in this journey with the courage to compete.
- Use campus resources and get to know your professors.
- Dedicate yourself to excellence and never settle for less than what you expect and deserve.

If you see me around campus, please stop and say, "hello," or feel free to visit my office in Dutton Hall, call or email me at any time.

STUDENT SCHOLARS

ALCHEMY GRAHAM

Pronouns: She/Her/Hers*

Second Year

Major: Marine and Coastal Sciences

From: Corona, California

What experiences led you to UC Davis?

I was chosen to be a part of the William H. Douglas Foundation, which helps black students get into college. I knew nothing about this school before I accepted an invitation from UC Davis to take a tour of campus. As soon as I got home from the tour, UC Davis became my number one school choice, and I was determined to get accepted here.

What do you love most about UC Davis?

I love the atmosphere here the most. Everyone here is so nice and friendly!

WHITNEY GREEN

Pronouns: She/Her/Hers

Fourth Year

Majors: Sociology-Organizational Studies

and Economics

From: Walnut Creek, California

Where did you find community at UC Davis?

The UC Davis new transfer student Facebook group helped me find my four best friends, without whom I'd be lost. Each of us has a different major, which has helped us branch out and make new friends together.

What resources have been most helpful to you at UC Davis?

I love the Transfer and Reentry Center and all the tutoring that's available via various campus organizations. We are so lucky to have the resources we do!

BRANDON JAY THOMAS

Pronouns: He/Him/His

Fourth Year

Major: Theatre and Dance

Minor: Psychology

From: San Leandro, California

What do you love most about UC Davis?

I enjoy the largely progressive culture of UC Davis. Students have access to an abundance of resources according to the various groups with which they identify (veteran, Chicanx, etc.). In addition, I love the fact that we support sustainability and healthy, organic living with our vast array of food options here on campus. Those are most important to me right now.

*Pronouns are linguistic tools that we use to refer to people (i.e., they/them/theirs, she/her/hers, he/him/his). We believe that it is important to give people the opportunity to state the pronoun that is correct to use when referring to them.

STUDENT LIFE

Aggies are active! Ask yourself how you want to get involved: join or start a student organization, play intramural or club sports, develop leadership skills, participate in research. Your campus offers myriad opportunities to explore interests, make connections, develop passions and lifelong friends. Check out the student scholars in The Black Pages to learn some of the ways you can enhance your academic experience.

CULTURAL PROGRAMS AND EVENTS

Black Fall Welcome

Black Fall Welcome opens the academic year, welcoming all incoming first-year and transfer students to the Black community. Students meet staff, faculty and other incoming students and learn about resources to help them succeed at UC Davis.

Black Leadership Retreat

This three-day, two-night trip is an amazing opportunity to build relationships in the Black community and see the beautiful scenery outside of Davis. Students participate in activities that build and enhance valuable leadership skills.

Student of Color Conference

ucsas.org/student-of-color-conference

The Student of Color Conference (SOCC) is the largest and oldest conference hosted by the University of California Student Association. Every fall quarter this conference provides a safe space for students of color and allies to discuss and explore issues of inequality.

Black Convocation

Held annually, Black Convocation nurtures the social and personal development of UC Davis students of African descent and encourages scholars to achieve academic excellence and success within the context of our global society. Students who attend Black Convocation are connected to a network of faculty, staff, alumni and other campus resources that will aid in their success.

Black Family Week

ccc.ucdavis.edu/africandiaspora.html

Traditionally held in February, Black Family Week is packed with educational events and entertainment focused on celebrating the African diaspora. Students participating in the signature Soul Speaks event showcase their creativity and identity through dance, music, spoken word and art. Programs and events for Black Family Week happen throughout the academic year, with 2–3 programs offered per quarter leading up to Black Family Day held annually in May.

Black History Month

Black History Month is celebrated with a variety of campus events that promote and educate the community about the African diaspora, highlighting the extraordinary achievements of and societal contributions by people of African descent.

Black Family Day

ccc.ucdavis.edu/africandiaspora.html

During the spring of 1971, students from the Black Student Union held a barbecue on The Quad at UC Davis with the intent to celebrate themselves and to take a stand against the historically and culturally exclusionary ideologies on university campuses. Black Family Day brings together students, alumni, family and friends to celebrate the diversity and historical, social and educational achievements of the UC Davis African diaspora. This is a family-friendly event featuring live entertainment, food, arts, crafts and much more.

BlaqOUT Conference

blaqoutucr.blogspot.com

The BlaqOUT Conference is held every spring quarter at a UC campus to discuss the intersectional identity of Black and queer. The Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer, Intersex, Asexual Resource Center and African Diaspora Cultivating Education (ACE) work together to organize this conference with other schools.

Nigerian Student Coalition Conference

orgsync.com/62169/events/1853048/occurrences/4337132

The Nigerian Student Association hosts the Nigerian Student Coalition Conference, held at UC Davis in the spring.

Black Graduation Celebration

Black Graduation Celebration is the final cultural event of the academic year. It shines a light on the academic achievements of African diaspora undergraduate and graduate students. All family members and friends are invited to share in the celebration.

To learn more about events during the academic year that create community for UC Davis' African and African American students as well as celebrate and honor their cultural experiences and accomplishments, visit ucdavis.edu/community/african-american-students.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

The Afrikan Black Coalition

afrikanblackcoalition.org

The Afrikan Black Coalition is a group composed of student leaders from all nine undergraduate UC campuses who seek to empower African and African American students. We strive to teach students how to organize community to improve the welfare of and empower marginalized students.

Associated Students, University of California, Davis (ASUCD)

asucd.ucdavis.edu

The Associated Students, University of California, Davis—or ASUCD—employs more than 1,500 students and is mostly student governed. Since 1915, ASUCD has offered students leadership opportunities in student advocacy, environmental activism, event planning, management, finance and more.

Black Campus Ministries

facebook.com/groups/212556435423970

Black Campus Ministries (BCM) is an ethnic-specific ministry of InterVarsity that focuses on collegiate African American students. BCM is committed to raising the vision in African American churches for student ministry and desiring God's call for racial reconciliation to others on their campuses.

Black Community of Science

ucdavis.orgsync.com/show_profile/85048

The Black Community of Science offers a space for Black students (African and African American students) to study, network, advise and encourage each other throughout our journey in the biological sciences. We provide resources, advice and support needed to obtain goals in the sciences and achieve educational success.

Black Engineers Association

beaucdnsbe.weebly.com

The mission of the Black Engineers Association (BEA) is to be all inclusive and expand on the ideas of the Black community to increase the number of culturally responsible Black students who excel academically and professionally and positively impact the community.

BlackOUT

lgbtqia.ucdavis.edu/connected/student-org.html

BlackOUT is a closed space and support group for Black queer/trans folks to network and build community. We aim to foster a space where folks who are Black and from the LGBTQIA+ community have room to share their voices and their struggles.

Black Student Union

bsuucd.weebly.com

The Black Student Union serves as a home for the African diaspora on the UC Davis campus to enhance self-identity, while respecting diversity. We strive to educate the UC Davis community through cultural and outreach programs in hopes to transcend our legacy for the future generations to come.

Eritrean Ethiopian Student Association

facebook.com/groups/427342337333194

Our organization works to unite Eritrean/Ethiopian students on campus. We strive to provide a welcoming space for community members, and we work to raise awareness of our culture and history on campus.

Imani Clinic

imaniclinic.org

Imani Clinic was the brainchild of UC Davis medical students in the Student National Medical Association (SNMA), an organization dedicated to improving outcomes—medical, academic and social—among members of the African American community.

Faces of the African Muslim Students at UC Davis

facebook.com/groups/890689317623237

The Faces of African Muslim Students' purpose is to promote discussion of African and African American contributions to Islam and of the comprehensive history of Muslim Africans in the United States. It aims to bring to light the divisions that exist within the Muslim community and between the African and African American communities.

Minority Association of Pre-Medical Students

mapsatucd.com

Minority Association of Pre-Medical Students (MAPS) at UC Davis is an organization designed to help minority pre-medical students matriculate into health professional school. We are committed to supporting underrepresented minority health students, addressing the needs of underserved communities and increasing the number of clinically excellent, culturally competent and socially conscious physicians.

Mixed Student Union

ccc.ucdavis.edu/mixedheritage.html

The Mixed Student Union (MSU) is devoted to the mixed race, multiethnic and transracial adoptee community. MSU provides a fun, safe and comfortable environment for people of mixed heritage and interested students to collaborate with other UC Davis ethnic student organizations to promote mixed-heritage awareness.

The Nigerian Students Association

facebook.com/groups/173254573012237

The Nigerian Students Association (NSA) serves to bring Nigerian students together to form a unified community and to create awareness of Nigerian culture on the UC Davis campus and beyond. It encourages students to contribute to the prosperity of Nigeria.

Pan African Student Organization

facebook.com/groups/1072888982736602

The Pan African Student Organization benefits all students of African descent. We organize social, educational and cultural functions for our members and the community.

STUDENT ATHLETES

ALEXIS BROWN

Pronouns: She/Her/Hers
Fourth Year
Major: Animal Science
From: Huntington Beach, California
Sport: Division 1 Gymnastics

What has been your most memorable UC Davis experience?

Last year, when I was kneeling for the national anthem in a gymnastics competition, I looked up and there was a huge crowd of my peers, friends and mentors from the Cross Cultural Center and Center for African Diaspora Student Success that remained sitting or put up their fists in the stands. That moment gave me chills. Looking up in the stands and seeing a sea of support, knowledge and Black Power is something I'll take with me long after I leave college.

FREDERICK WILLIAMS

Pronouns: He/Him/His
Fourth Year
Majors: Political Science and Psychology
From: Corona, California
Sports: Sport club boxing and intramural basketball, football and softball

What has been your most memorable UC Davis experience?

My most memorable UC Davis experience was winning an intramural basketball playoff game, with a 30-student crowd, then biking to the library to study for a midterm that was the next morning and getting dressed for an interview that evening. I got the job and an A on that test. That just shows you how UC Davis students are—we are multi-talented and have strong passions.

What do you see yourself doing in the future?

I see myself as a private practice criminal defense attorney or contract law attorney.

COURTNEY HUMPHREY

Pronouns: She/Her/Hers
Fourth Year
Major: Human Development
From: Okemos, Michigan
Sport: Division 1 Lacrosse

What does being a student athlete mean to you?

Being a student athlete gives me an opportunity to represent UC Davis inside and outside of the classroom. It's more than the mere hours I spend on the field. It is also about building important character traits that will be instrumental to my success, long after I take my last step on the field.

What advice would you give to incoming student athletes?

Forming friendships and connections outside of the athlete realm at Davis is just as important as making connections inside of athletics.

SPORTS

ucdavis.edu/campus-life/athletics-sports

UC Davis offers a variety of sports for players at every level. Joining a sports team is a great way to stay active, build relationships with peers and learn leadership skills! Whether you are a Division 1 athlete, want to participate at the intramural level or would rather play at the club level, UC Davis offers a sport for you.

THINGS TO DO

The campus and city of Davis offer a wide range of attractions. Everyone is welcome to explore the UC Davis Arboretum, view performances at the Mondavi Center for the Performing Arts, visit museums and enjoy the many shops in downtown Davis.

ON CAMPUS

Explore the Arboretum

arboretum.ucdavis.edu

The arboretum has over 100 acres of beautiful gardens for active recreation or peaceful contemplation. There are documented plant collections, exhibits and demonstration plantings where visitors can learn about sustainable gardening for the Central Valley.

Check out the Experimental College

ecollege.ucdavis.edu

The Experimental College formed as part of a movement on university campuses to bring alternative voices to the university culture. Today, the Experimental College provides an outlet for individuals to share their interests and learn skills in an informal setting by offering courses in dance, martial arts, yoga and movement, holistic health, music, language and more.

Celebrate Picnic Day

picnicday.ucdavis.edu

Picnic Day celebrates student diversity and a healthy campus climate with over 200 diverse exhibits and marquee events such as the Doxie Derby and the Chemistry Magic Show.

Attend sporting events

ucdavisaggies.com/calendar/events

UC Davis is home to the Aggie Pack, the largest student spirit organization in the nation. The energy-filled Black Aggie Pack section is definitely an experience with the potential to meet new people and, together, cheer on our many competitive sports teams, including our Division I football and basketball teams.

Visit campus museums

BOHART MUSEUM OF ENTOMOLOGY

bohart.ucdavis.edu

The museum is dedicated to teaching, research and service. It houses the seventh largest insect collection in North America, featuring species from around the world.

C.N. GORMAN MUSEUM

CAMPUS COMMUNITY RESOURCES

UC Davis offers a dynamic set of resources that caters to your personal interests and needs. These resources can help you find employment, explore your identity, de-stress, delve into community and academics and even cultivate your passions. Use them to achieve your academic goals, maintain a balanced and healthy schedule and enjoy yourself!

AB540 and Undocumented Student Center

undocumented.ucdavis.edu

The AB540 and Undocumented Student Center was built on the foundation of educational equity and opportunity. Empowering students, their families and members of the community, we provide educational resources and build awareness of changing policies affecting California's undocumented population. We foster a holistic approach to recruitment and retention, with sensitivity to a student's mental, emotional and financial well-being. Staying true to our mission, we want to ensure our students' experiences on campus are not only positive but also not limited or hindered due to immigration status.

Academic Advising Center

housing.ucdavis.edu/current/academic_advising_center.asp

Peer advisors and tutors in the Academic Advising Center provide convenient, personalized academic support for every residence hall student.

Campbell 2

housing.ucdavis.edu/buildings/campbellhall.asp

Campbell 2 is a living-learning community focused on Black culture. Located in the Tercero residence hall area, it is a great way for first-year students of all cultures to explore the African diaspora.

Campus Recreation

cru.ucdavis.edu

Campus Recreation provides fitness, wellness and recreation programs to the campus community through the operation and administration of a wide variety of programs, services and facilities. The department comprises more than 60 career staff and more than 800 student employees and volunteers, who invest their energy and creativity and inspire others to maintain balanced lifestyles through recreation and leisure activities.

Center for African Diaspora Student Success

cadss.ucdavis.edu

The Center for African Diaspora Student Success (CADSS) is a space where you, as an African diaspora student, receive affirmation of your talents and engage in all aspects of campus life. At CADSS, you have access to academic and professional advising, mentoring by administration and faculty, student and peer support, professional networking and leadership development—all in a caring, supportive environment where you are seen holistically.

LINDA FRANCES ALEXANDER SCHOLARS PROGRAM

cadss.ucdavis.edu/programs/linda-frances-alexander-scholars-program.html

The Linda Frances Alexander Scholars Program provides academic, social and cultural enrichment for African American and African students in support of their academic success and personal development.

Center for Student Involvement

csi.ucdavis.edu

The Center for Student Involvement (CSI) aims to enhance students' experiences at UC Davis by exposing them to co-curricular activities. We encourage engagement and involvement opportunities in leadership development, community service, cross-cultural competence and collaboration by providing helpful resources to student clubs and organizations. With more than 800 student organizations to explore, there's a place for everyone.

Cross Cultural Center

ccc.ucdavis.edu

Born out of student activism and political struggle, the Cross Cultural Center (CCC) offers a culturally relevant community space where student voices can be expressed and respected. The CCC cultivates critical consciousness and cultural competency by providing learning opportunities at the crossroads of the many aspects of our identities and experiences.

The registrar provides student identification cards, manages the course registration system, verifies student enrollment and provides student transcripts.

Online Advising Student Information System

oasis.ucdavis.edu

The Online Advising Student Information System (OASIS) is a central location for students to learn about important deadlines, submit and track forms and petitions, and fill out degree worksheets to help plan their coursework.

Sacramento Area Youth Speaks

says.ucdavis.edu

Founded in 2009 at UC Davis, Sacramento Area Youth Speaks (SAYS) strives to change the world through education and empowerment. Building on a foundation of critical literacy and spoken word performance poetry, SAYS breaks the chains of underachievement by elevating the voices and power of students as authors of their own lives and agents of change.

Student Academic Success Center

success.ucdavis.edu

The Student Academic Success Center (SASC) is a large, multi-program Student Affairs department providing essential services, programs and information for UC Davis students.

ACADEMIC ASSISTANCE AND TUTORING

success.ucdavis.edu/about/aat

Academic Assistance and Tutoring (AAT) provides academic support to undergraduate students enrolled in biology, chemistry, economics, mathematics, physics, statistics and Writing Across the Disciplines. Our instructional professional staff offers classes, workshops and office hours. AAT undergraduate tutors also provide drop-in tutoring for students enrolled in math and science courses and in Writing Across the Disciplines.

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY PROGRAM

eop.ucdavis.edu

Educational Opportunity Program (EOP) offers an array of services to help students adapt both academically and socially to the university setting and successfully achieve their educational goals. EOP provides a caring and supportive environment for students to meet with peer and staff advisors and network with other students.

GUARDIAN SCHOLARS PROGRAM

success.ucdavis.edu/centers-and-programs/guardian-scholars

The mission of the Guardian Scholars Program is to empower foster youth at UC Davis to reach their potential by providing a community network that supports their academic progress and personal growth.

PRE-GRADUATE/PRE-PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

success.ucdavis.edu/services/pre-grad-prof

Pre-Professional/Pre-Graduate School Advising offers individualized advice and information to students interested in admission to professional and graduate schools (law, master's and Ph.D. programs, etc.). In addition, the program offers small group advising and informative workshops and hosts visits from admissions officers from various professional schools.

STUDY SKILLS ASSISTANCE

success.ucdavis.edu/services/study-skills

Advising and workshops are offered to help students strengthen skills that have significant impact on college achievement and academic success. Students may attend a scheduled workshop or meet with an advisor to get help with time management, test preparation, success strategies, note taking and other study skills.

TRANSFER AND REENTRY CENTER

trc.ucdavis.edu

If you transferred to UC Davis or are a reentry student, the Transfer Reentry Center is here to serve you. Reentry refers to undergraduate students who are 25 or older, graduate students who are 30 or older, married students or student parents.

VETERANS SUCCESS CENTER

vsc.ucdavis.edu

The Veterans Success Center provides students a welcoming space, professional and peer advising, guidance with educational benefits and engagement opportunities that span the university and the larger Davis community.

Student Disability Center

sdc.ucdavis.edu

The Student Disability Center coordinates specialized academic support services and promotes integrated participation in campus life for students with disabilities.

Student Health and Counseling Services

shcs.ucdavis.edu

UC Davis Student Health and Counseling Services provides a wide variety of medical, mental health and wellness services to all registered UC Davis students, regardless of insurance coverage. Most services are provided through scheduled appointments; however, urgent care (service without an appointment) is also available for acute medical and mental health needs.

Services are provided at two primary locations: the Student Health and Wellness Center and North Hall.

COMMUNITY ADVISING NETWORK

shcs.ucdavis.edu/services/can.html

Composed of a team of community counselors, the Community Advising Network (CAN) assists all students, especially those from underserved populations, to achieve their goals and address factors that may be affecting their academic success. CAN community counselors are a diverse group of professional staff who understand student issues and are here to help. CAN community counselors provide students with free and anonymous consultation and personal counseling in addition to programs, workshops and other campus-community outreach activities. (CAN counselors do not provide academic advising.)

Student Recruitment and Retention Center

srrc.ucdavis.edu

The Student Recruitment and Retention Center (SRRC) offers student-run and student-initiated programs that foster holistic academic and personal development while raising political and cultural awareness. The SRRC study lounge provides tutoring and test materials, and it is a great place to get your homework done.

AFRICAN DIASPORA CULTIVATING EDUCATION

src.ucdavis.edu/programs/ace

African Diaspora Cultivating Education (ACE) strives to create a supportive environment that encourages academic success and cultural awareness. ACE programs include peer mentorship, the annual Black Leadership Retreat, Soul Speaks, weekly study halls and an end-of-year barbecue.

COLLECTIVE

src.ucdavis.edu/programs/collective

Collective provides both academic and social support to empower transfer, reentry, parent and all non-traditional students to succeed in higher education. Collective offers all students a safe and welcoming environment to further engage in their educational pursuits. Through campus visits, Collective introduces disadvantaged students to the opportunities and possibilities a university education provides.

UC Davis Study Abroad

studyabroad.ucdavis.edu

UC Davis offers a wide variety of study abroad options. The African American and African Studies program partners with UC Davis Study Abroad to offer programs in regions as diverse as Botswana, Brazil, Cuba, Ghana, South Africa and the United Kingdom. Students in any major can participate for a summer, quarter or an entire year. Studying, exploring and engaging with other cultures before graduation is an incredible learning experience that will broaden your perspective of the world.

Undergraduate Research Center

urc.ucdavis.edu

The Undergraduate Research Center (URC) empowers students to find research opportunities and provides resources to hone the skills vital to success as a researcher. Explore the URC website to discover how to excel in a research experience and learn about the research pathway available to UC Davis students.

MCNAIR SCHOLARS PROGRAM

urc.ucdavis.edu/programs/mcnair.html

The UC Davis McNair Scholars Program is a two-year program that encourages students from underrepresented backgrounds to pursue doctoral degrees. Around 20 UC Davis students are selected to participate in the program throughout the school year and summer months.

Women's Resources and Research Center

wrrc.ucdavis.edu

The Women's Resources and Research Center is a great place to learn about gender equity, meet friends and get involved with on-campus programs and student groups. Sexism affects everyone, and students can take part in making UC Davis safer and more inclusive for everyone.

THANK YOU

STUDENT CREATIVE TEAM

Not pictured: Bernice Lacerna, Morgan Tieu, Michael Chow

The Student Affairs Marketing and Communications student designers and photographers collaborated on the graphic design of The Black Pages and fashioned it into what it is now. The student designers produced a unique design tailored to the needs of the Black community. The creative team hopes you enjoy the aesthetic experience of the guide and use it as a resource for your life at UC Davis.

STUDENT EDITORIAL TEAM

Students from the UC Davis community resource and retention centers participate in the student editorial team. They provided guidance for content development, design, photos and student profiles. With their contributions, this guide is reflective of the African and African American community and student voice.
